

QUEERIOD!!!

YASSS, MAMA!

Queer Peer

Marketplace

Our mission is to uplift

queer + bipoc businesses.

LIFT WITH YOUR BACK

GURLLLL

We also provide consulting services to help small businesses curate their brand identity, business models, and marketing.

Goals

- Build a wardrobe and home filled with pieces that reflect her values
- Discover unique, high-quality products not available in mainstream retailers
- Feel confident that her purchases have real, positive impact
- Support BIPOC and queer entrepreneurs directly

Pain Points

- Difficult to verify if a business is actually BIPOC/queer-owned
- Limited curated selection of values-aligned products in one place
- Limited curation of values-aligned products
- Spends hours researching individual small business owners

Maya

BUYER • 28 • Portland, OR • College graduate

Goals

- Reach customers who want to support queer and BIPOC business owners
- Gain legitimacy and credibility in the marketplace
- Scale production and eventually hire team members from their community
- Hire team members from the LGBTQ+ community

Pain Points

- Building their own website and managing e-commerce is overwhelming
- Imposter syndrome—unsure if they're a "legitimate" business
- Competing with large, well-funded fashion brands for visibility
- Customers may doubt the authenticity of Queer-ownership.

 - B Impact Assessment
- Halima's interests: equity in education/career (esp. for women of color), global banking access, wealth creation, sustainability through everyday brands, alternative energy & power grid

Idea

Halima can start a distribution company that partners with BIPOC and queer business owners who sell sustainable consumer products.

- Affiliate program for BIPOC & queer content creators – mutually beneficial marketing campaigns
- Target young audiences who are passionate about sustainability and ethical consumerism but find it difficult to discover smaller brands
- Target people who love online shopping
- Sustainable, everyday products/brands: fashion, second-hand fashion, beauty products, local restaurants, local food markets (grocery foods, ethnic foods), sustainable packaging products (good for smaller online retailers who sell handcrafted goods etc)

Inspiration: Good Start Packaging

- <https://www.goodstartpackaging.com/>
- Sells & distributes sustainable packaging products (grocery store bags, coffee bags, dinnerware etc.) using innovative materials
- Also have an affiliate program for content creators etc. to market products
